25/10/2024

J. W Hinchliffe (Tanks) Ltd is a small business which engages in the cleaning and decommissioning of fuel and oil tanks.

Our work involves a very limited supply chain, with only a small number involved in supplying products or services to the company. However, the company and its directors are acutely aware of the risks posed to vulnerable members of society and are dedicated to ensuring that the company does not support, or promote, any activities that engage in unethical practices. The company is also committed to identifying suitable training / information about slavery and human trafficking and making it available to all staff.

J. W. Hinchliffe (Tanks) Ltd are committed to ensuring that its employees are not subject to behaviour or threats that may amount to modern slavery, human trafficking, forced labour, and or similar human rights abuses.

On reviewing current practices within the business, we are confident that we are meeting our obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and the Immigration, Asylum & Nationality Act 2006, and will continue to review the practices of both our company, and those involved within our supply chain.
